CHINESE BANDITS ONLY EX-SOLDIERS AFTER BACK PAY

NOT JESSE JAMES TYPE DECLARES E. S. STOCKER OF SHANGHAI, WHO IS VISITING AT D. D. CONWAY RESIDENCE.

"The Chinese bandits who recently captured a number of foreigners are not of the Jesse James type, but, in reality, are soldiers and ex-soldiers of the government who took that method of forcing the government to give them their back pay and to re-establish themselves in the Chinese army," said E. S. Stocker, formerly of Platteville, Wis., but for the past twelve years a civil engineer for the city of Shanghai. Mr. and Mrs. Stocker are now visiting at the Third street home of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Conway.

Desert Their Leaders

"Conditions in China are such that it would take hours to explain especially in regard to politics. Every soldier has been a bandit or will be one. This was explained recently when the soldiers of General Chang Su Ling were driven out of Pekin by soldiers under General Wei Pu Fu and now the very soldiers who helped drive out Chang Su Ling are gradually sifting away from Wei Pu Fu and joining the forces of Chang Su Ling as he prepares to again re-enter Pekin," Mr. Stocker explained in an interview today.

Politicians to Blame

"This condition is caused by the politicians eating up the funds of the government backed by Wei Pu Fu and President Lee has already fled Pekin to avoid contact with the newly organized force of Chang Su Ling. Another feature of this second visit of General Chang Su Ling is that it is the first time in the history of Pekin that a defeated General has fought his way back into Pekin for the second time.

"The so-called bandits are those soldiers who have drifted away from the army and effected the capture of the foreigners as a means of threatening their way back into the good graces of the government and re-establishing themselves as soldiers.

Ordinary Hardships

"In regard to the hardships encountered by the prisoners it must be understood that the conditions of travel were, in all probability, the only hardships encountered. The bandits captured the prisoners and, in their attempt to escape capture by government soldiers, had to undergo many forced marches, which worked a hardship upon the captives. I never suspected for a moment that cruel treatment would be resorted to as the bandits are not of the Jesse James type."

A peculiar feature disclosed in the interview is the fact that the business men of China pay no attention to the uprisings as it does not have any momentus effect upon their business relationships with the people or other governments. The people are used to the changing political conditions and as each change comes it is taken in a matter-of-fact way and business remains stable.

Mr. and Mrs. Stocker left Shanghai in December and on their way to this country visited Egypt, Italy, France and England. While visiting in Wisconsin they decided to come to this city where Mrs. Conway and Mrs. Stocker could renew their friendships made while attending school at Madison Wis.

Investigations Of Legislature Discontinued

Madison, Wis.—Legislative investigations into alleged drinking by legislators and state officials have taken a humorous twist and dwindled into thin air.

The most recent request for an investigation by Assemblyman Eric Johnson which named drinking and "petting parties," ended on Friday when Johnson pleaded that his resolution be given back to him and the house finaly consented.

Senator Denies Report

A newspaper report that Senator Herman Severson would introduce a new resolution for a probe was denied by the senator, who declared that he had not authorized such a statement and that he had no intention of demanding another probe.

Assemblyman had prepared numerous amendments to Johnson's resolution when he asked that his resolution be returned to him for destruction. One of these would have demanded a probe of snuff chewing by a member of the house. This amendment declared that this was "urbecoming to the dignity of a legislator."

Governor Vetoes Bill Changing The B. & L. Ass'n. Law

Madison, Wis., June 23—Governor Blaine today vetoed a committee on corporations bill changing the Wisconsin building and loan association law to make the individual and not the piece of proprety the unit for determination of the amount of the loan.

The governor said that this change in itself may not be objectionable, but that an amendment increasing the amount of paid-up stock and of installment stock that may be issued to any one person from $10,000 to $20,000 was objectionable.

Could Avoid Taxes

It was suggested by the governor that to increase the amount of investment possible in these associations would afford a vehicle to escape taxation, since this class of stock is not taxable either by the federal or state laws.

"The increase in the authorized amount of such installment stock and paid-up stock merely furnishes to various individuals the right to use building and loan associations certificates as a method of escaping the payment of income taxes, without any benefit whatever to those who use the building and loan association for the purposes for which it is designed."

Boy Scouts Are Enjoying Outing At Summer Camp

Thirty-three scouts from this city, Biron, Nekoosa and Port Edwards, who are now in camp at Sunset Lake, are having the time of their lives according to word received here today from the camp headquarters.

Swimming, boating, scout stunts and eating are taking up the time of the boys to such an extent that they are now complaining that the only drawback to the whole camp trip is the fact that it has to end so soon.

Sunday a large delegation of visitors from this city are expected to make a call at the camp, but those in charge say that it will be impossible to feed the guests and advise all to bring a picnic lunch.

Congress to Receive Two Petitions From Wisconsin

Madison, Wis.—Congress will soon receive two petitions from the Wisconsin legislature arising directly out of sentiment created by the World war. One of these is a memorial by Assemblyman Clinton Price, Mauston, which asks congress to enact a soldiers' bonus. Price, the author of the bill is a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

Another resolution asks congress to effect changes to the federal constitution to prevent the use of the militia or drafted troops in overseas service except to defend American possessions. This resolution was sponsored by Assemblyman Anton Holly.

Investigations Of Legislature Discontinued

Madison, Wis.—Legislative investigatons nto alleged drinking by legislators and state officials have taken a humorous twist and dwindled into thin air.

The most recent request for an investigation by Assemblyman Eric Johnson which named drinking and "petting parties," ended on Friday when Johnson pleaded that his resolution be given back to him and the house finaly consented.

Senator Denies Report

A newspaper report that Senator Herman Severson would introduce a new resolution for a probe was denied by the senator, who declared that he had not authorized such a statement and that he had no intention of demanding another probe.

Assemblyman had prepared numerous amendments to Johnson's resolution when he asked that his resolution be returned to him for destruction. One of these would have demanded a probe of snuff chewing by a member of the house. This amendment declared that this was "unbecoming to the dignity of a legislator."

Governor Vetoes Bill Changing The B. & L. Ass'n. Law

Madison, Wis., June 23—Governor Blaine today vetoed a committee on corporations bill changing the Wisconsin building and loan association law to make the individual and not the piece of proprety the unit for determination of the amount of the loan.

The governor said that this change in itself may not be objectionable, but that an amendment increasing the amount of paid-up stock and of installment stock that may be issued to any one person from $10,000 to $20,000 was objectionable.

Could Avoid Taxes

It was suggested by the governor that to increase the amount of investment possible in these associations would afford a vehicle to escape taxation, since this class of stock is not taxable either by the federal or state laws.

"The increase in the authorized amount of such installment stock and paid-up stock merely furnishes to various individuals the right to use building and loan associations certificates as a method of escaping the payment of income taxes, without any benefit whatever to those who use the building and loan association for the purposes for which it is designed."

Divided Wealth of His Friend, Lands in Jail

(By Associated Press)

Superior, Wis., June 23—The communistic ideas of Coap Tolifred, age 35, and of this city, won for him a stay of 60 days in the county jail here today. Tolifred met one John Ratcozitch, the latter being wealthy to the extent of $16, and thought it would be a splendid chance for him to share it with him. Ratcozitch, as capitalists are quite frequently inclined to do, could see no logic in the plan. Then Tolifred resorted to violence, took $15, returned $5, and was gone. He was later apprehended by the police.

"Hello" says Ben.

"Come on with me Ben" say the Chief. Ben came hand in hand with Todd and into a waiting automobile where the Chief drove him to the police station. "How'd you know I was on the train" says the boy "I don't know you." But his bluff wouldn't work and he told his story of running away to Milwaukee, at three o'clock this morning. Ben's parents drove down from Merrill to take him back home.

EXCEEDS SPEED OF MAURETENIA ON INITIAL TRIP

FASTEST COMMERCIAL SHIP IN WORLD NOW CARRIES U. S. COLORS

(By Associated Press)

New York, June 23.—A wireless message from Albert D. Lasker, former chairman of the United States Shipping Board, announced to the President that the Leviathan had broken all world records in making 28.04 knotical miles in one hour, and not only that but had kept a sustained speed of 28 knots per hour for a six hour period. During a 28 hour period the Liviathan maintained an average speed of 27.48 knots per hour and covered 687 miles—11 miles farther than the former record of any merchant marine ship. The message was forwarded to the president.

Beats Maureloula

The ship Mauretania was the former holder of the United States Marine record, but when the word went down to the engine room of the great liner the engines were not allowed to relax until the speed of 28.04, which eclipsed the former record, has been passed. W. R. Gibbs, supervising architect and expert, said no other record set by English or German ships was ever accomplished under such terrific heat tests. He further declared that the Majestic would have little chance of passing the Leviathan.

Returns Sunday

As the gant Leviathan turned north Friday with engines throbbing steadily after circling Alasco Island, Bahamas, the crew and passengers sweltered under the hot sun and kept busy shifting to places of shady vantage. The big ship will probably reach ..NoeYwrk reach New York Sunday morning.

Jim Jensen Has Great Patent Expects to Make Millions

The announcemograph and musioradiophone carried by Jim Jenson, of the Jenson & Anderson firm, who was the advance guard of the big C. of C. Booster Tour on Thursday may net Jim a lot of money. It was supposed to be a wonderful rig, could sing anything, etc. The trouble was Jim's musioradiophone sang all Norwegian songs when he came into the various places to herald the approach of the Boosters and the music was not understood until he arrived at Vesper. Kellner, Babcock and Pittsville folks couldn't understand it. Anyway Jim did heroic work, he didn't tell them what was coming because they couldn't understand his instrument but he raised so much curiosity among the people that they all stayed to see what he was raving about.

THE WAY TO DO IT

Wisconsin Rapids is going to be host to the state convention of the Wisconsin Funeral Directors' and Embalmers' Ass'n. this coming month. Over five hundred and perhaps nearly eight hundred people will attend.

The best part of it remains to be said. Through the ingenuity of J. R. Ragan and Fred Krohn, the local convention committeemen, the people of Wisconsin Rapids will not be asked one cent to finance the big convention. Neither will the Chamber of Commerce be asked to contribute. Such a situation is most unique.

All the local committee asks is that the people of this city rent them sufficient rooms to house the delegates and guests. Mind you they ask the privilege of renting the rooms. Unless we have completely missed our guess, the people of this city will not be found wanting in their hospitality and their willingness to help out in that difficult problem of housing from five to eight hundred people. Let's show the visitors we are right.

As usual politics wins.

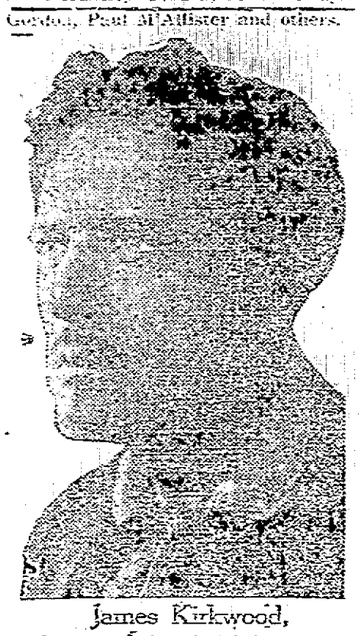
A cast of extraordinary magnitude and brilliance appears in Daniel Carson Goodman's big photodrama "What's Wrong With the Women?" founded on the age-old battle of the sexes and announced for exhibition at the Palace Theater on Sunday and Monday. Among the artists who will appear in this unual production are Wilton Lackaye, Hobart Bosworth, Rod La Rocque, Barbara Castleton, Constance Bennett, Montague Love, Helen Rowland, Huntley Gordon, Julia Swayne Gordon, Paul M'Allister and others.



James Kirkwood,
who assumes the role of the itinerant street-preacher in "The Sin Flood", Goldwyn's picturization of the Henning Berger drama, "Syndafloden"

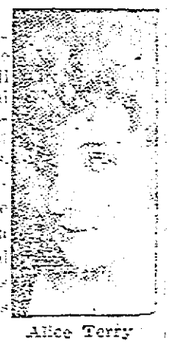
James Kirkwood as the Unfrocked Preacher in "The Sin Flood" will play at the Palace Theater Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. The supporting cast in this production will be L. H. King as the bum, Richard Dix as the broker's clerk, Helene Chadwick as the "poppy of the chorus," Ralph Lewis as "the meanest man," and Otto Hoffman as "the ham actor."

The property man's task around a movie studio is no cinch take it from Goldwyn's property men. In one day, Director George D. Baker, making "The Magic Skin" for Goldwyn release asked for a magic skin that would shrink and shrivel even if placed by itself on the middle of the floor; Erich von Stroheim asked for a huge gold tooth for his production of "Greed;" and Clarence Badger, directing "Red Lights," asked for a red light which would appear and disappear in the middle of the scenes.

Five thousand angular pieces of glass are being cut and polished to give sparkle to the Winters Palace, being replaced for Marshall Neilan's "The Rendezvous."

Wally Van, who plays the role of Rastignac in "The Magic Skin," was one of the first screen comedians. He played with John Bunny in the old Vitagraph days and later directed him in several pictures.

Ben Ingraham's production "Where the Pavement Ends" will appear at the Ideal Theater next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. Alice Terry and Ramon Navarro are the two stars which go a long way toward making the picture as successful as it has been.



Alice Terry

Walter Hiers, the fat-faced comedian of the screen, will again appear in this city in the screen production, "Mr. Billings Spends His Dime." Jacqueline Logan, another Paramount star, will play opposite him. This show will appear at the Ideal Theater Sunday and Monday.

Smart literary, art and stage circles of New York, London, and Paris received the sensation of their lives as a result of the successful screen debut of Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein, the beautiful and accomplished widow of the late operatic impresario.

ALFRED LUNT.

Alfred Lunt, a Wisconsin boy, is rapidly forging to the front as the outstanding male star in filmland today. Immediately after the presentation of his first picture, "Backbone," at New York's famous Capital Theater in April, he was hailed as the legitimate successor to the late Wally Reid. After being graduated from Carroll, Lunt went to Boston with the purpose of finishing his education with special courses at Harvard, but on the way he decided he would abandon this for the stage—providing he would get the job. He got the job all right—a job as a fiery Chinese dragon in a Castle Square Stock Company production. His pay was five dollars a week, and for this he had to risk being stepped on by other members of the cast and also to risk being burned by the flaming oil-soaked waste which was stuffed in the dragon's mouth. Booth Tarkington saw him, and in the young actor the celebrated author found the inspiration for the writing of "Clarence." Everybody knows what a startling success Lunt had in that play. After appearing in "The Intimate Strangers" and in "Banco," Lunt was offered motion picture work by Arthur S. Friend, president of the Distinctive Picture Corporation.

O'FARRELL CLIMBS AMONG LEADERS IN N. L. BATTING RACE

ADD DISTRICT NOTES
GREAT SPURT CARRIES HIM FROM ELEVENTH PLACE TO FOURTH; COLLINS LEADS STEALERS AND SACRIFICE HITTERS

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, June 23—Bob O'Farrell, catcher of the Chicago Cubs, has entered the mad scramble for batting honors in the National League, according to figures released today and which include last Wednesday's games. O'Farrell started his drive several weeks ago and in his last seven games he made thirteen hits, four of which were four baggers. His great stick work has been a big factor in the Cubs' recent victories. O'Farrell has moved from eleventh place among the players who have participated in thirty-five or more games to a triple tie for fourth place with an average of .365 compared with a mark of .296 a week ago. Edd Roush of Cincinnati who added only one point to his mark of the previous week and Johnny Mokan of the Phillies who suffered a slump are tied with the Chicago star.

Wheat Dropping

Zack Wheat, the Brooklyn outfielder has fallen off since the Dodgers' invasion of the West, but still maintains first place with a four point margin over Charley Grimm, the Pittsburgh slugger. Wheat is hitting .389 compared with a .409 a week ago. Grimms' average is .385 and Frankie Frisch of the Giants is right on the heels of the Pirate first baseman, with an average of .382.

"Cy Williams of Philadelphia continues to lead home run hitters with 20 circuit drives. His 145 total bases also remain in that department.

Grantham Speeding Up

George Grantham of the Cubs is tied with Sammy Bohne, of Cincinnati Reds for stolen base honors. Each has pilfered 13 sacks, the Chicago speedster, accounting six in the past week, while the Red's phenom failed to steal.

Other leading batters: Bottomley, St. Louis .360; Barnhart, Pittsburgh .342; Williams, Philadelphia .342; Southworth, Boston .341; Young, New York .340; Flack, St. Louis .339; Fournier, Brooklyn .338.

Heilman Leading A. L.

With the advent of warmer weather, the pitchers of the Ameriacn League are showing better form. Harry Heilmann, of the Detroit Tigers is still on the throne with a average of .428, the only player in the majors playing in 35 or more games, who is hitting above the .400 class. Eddie Collins, captain of the White Sox is still the runner up with an average of .374 and Jamieson of the Cleveland Indians is third with .369.

Collins has wrenched the sacrifice hitting honors away from Wambganes of the Indians, by taking 18 to Wamby's 16. Comiskey's star second sacker, also continues to blaze the paths and is showing the way to the base stealers with 24 thefts, Johnny Mostil, his teammate has stolen 14 bases and is Collins' nearest rival.

Babe Ruth of the Yankees made only one circuit drive during the week which run his string to fourteen, but the king of sluggers, has been doing some consistent hitting. With a total of 54 runs scored, Babe is easily the best run getter, and his 133 total bases is far in front of his rivals.

Brief in Slump

Bunny Brief, of the Kansas City Blues, king pin slugger of the American association, who was leading the hitters who have participated in 35 or more games, has been dethroned and landed in fourth place. The slump of Brief also was reflected on G. Wright, Brannan, Blackburne, Roth and others and this falling off has pulled down their team batting average from .315 to .300, and has cost the Blues the leadership in the pennant race.

J. Smith, Toledo, a runer up to Brief a week ago, has stepped out in front and Lamar, a teammate is his nearest rival. Smith's mark is .375 and Lamar's .366. Carl East is trailing in third place with .365 and Brief is next wth .364.

Clouts 14 Homers

Brief extended his home run record to 14 and has run his total bases to 135. His 55 tallies gives him the lead as run getter.

Christenbury of Indianapolis has taken a sudden spurt on the bases and by stealing five bases, ran his total to 14, tying Eddie Murphy of Columbus for these honors.

Other leading batters: G. Wright, Kansas City .362; Schrieber, Columbus .358; Combs Louisville .352, Christenbury, Indianapolis .344; E. Murphy, Columbus .343; Brown Indianapolis .342; Hammond, Kansas City .335; Campbell, Indianapolis .330.

Janesville—W. D. Gower had been appointed superintendent of Riverside park here by the city council.

New York—(A. P.)—Walter Hagen, star American golfer, arriving from England on Friday on the steamship Berengaria, accused Britand declared he never again would compete in a British tournament.

The attitude of the British golfing authorities, he declared, was one that indicate that they were trying to put every kind of technical obstacle in the way of the Americans at Troonish golfers of poor sportsmanship

The most annoying case cited by him a proof of this was the last minute prohibition of "punch clubs." The American team had no opportunity to practice with other clubs before the tournament opened, he said. Punched clubs have been used all over the world, he said.

"They wanted to win so badly that they acted like bad sports," said Hagen. "What happened at Troon never has happened on an American course and probably couldn't happen. I probably am off British tournaments for life," he said.

"The feeling at Troon was most unpleasant and it was easy to see that every possible technicalty which might have hampered us was freely resorted to."

The most glaring example of bad sporting tactics, Hagen said, was the eleventh hour prohibition of the use of "punched clubs."

"The British authorities," he declared, "knew long ago that we all, both British and American players, used punched clubs and that the Americans, more partil to the use of clubs so treated, had had little time to prepare for play in which the punched clubs were banned. Yet, late Saturday afternoon before the Monday morning play was to begin, we saw a bulletin posted prohibiting our pet clubs, and we had no chance. If that wasn't bad sportsmanship I'd like to know what was."

O'FARRELL CLIMBS AMONG LEADERS IN N. L. BATTING RACE

ADD DISTRICT NOTES
GREAT SPURT CARRIES HIM FROM ELEVENTH PLACE TO FOURTH; COLLINS LEADS STEALERS AND SACRIFICE HITTERS

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, June 23—Bob O'Farrell, catcher of the Chicago Cubs, has entered the mad scramble for batting honors in the Natonal League, according to figures released today and which include last Wednesday's games. O'Farrell, started his drive several weeks ago, and in his last seven games, he made thirteen hits, four of which were four baggers. His great stick work has been a big factor in the Cubs' recent victories. O'Farrell has moved from eleventh place among the players who have participated in thirty-five or more games, to a triple tie for fourth place with an average of .365 compared with a mark of .336 a week ago. Ed. Roush of Cincinnati who added only one point to his mark of the previous week and Johnny Mokan of the Phillies who suffered a slump are tied with the Chicago star.

Wheat Dropping

Zack Wheat, the Brooklyn, outfielder has fallen off since the Dodgers' invasion of the West, but still maintains first place with a four point margin over Charley Grimm, the Pittsburgh slugger. Wheat is hting .389 compared with a .409 a week ago. Grimms' average is .385 and Frankie Frisch of the Giants is right on the heels of the Pirate first baseman, with an average of .382.

"Cy Williams of Philadelphia continues to lead home run hitters with 20 circuit drives. His 145 total bases also remain in that department.

Grantham Speeding Up

George Grantham of the Cubs is tied with Sammy Bohne, of Cincinnati Reds for stolen base honors. Each has pilfered 13 sacks, the Chicago speedster, annexing six in the past week, while the Red's phenom failed to steal.

Other leading batters: Bottomley, St. Louis .360; Barnhart, Pittsburgh .343; Williams, Philadelphia .342; Southworth, Boston .341; Young, New York .340; Flack, St. Louis .339; Fournier, Brooklyn .338.

Heilman Leading A. L.

Wth the advent of warmer weather, the pitchers of the American League are showing better form. Harry Heilmann, of the Detroit Tigers is still on the throne with a average of .428, the only player in the majors playing in 35 or more games, who is hitting above the .400 class. Eddie Collins, captain of the White Sox is still the runner up with an average of .374 and Jamieson of the Cleveland Indians is third with .369.

Collins has wrenched the sacrifice hitting honors away from Wambganes of the Indians, by taking 18 to Wamby's 16. Comiskey's star second sacker, also continues to blaze the paths and is showing the way to the base stealers with 24 thefts, Johnny Mostil, his teammate has stolen 14 bases and is Collins' nearest rival.

Babe Ruth of the Yankees made only one circuit drive during the week which ran his string to fourteen, but the king of sluggers, has been doing some consistent hitting. With a total of 54 runs scored, Babe is easily the best run getter, and his 133 total bases is far in front of his rivals.

Brief in Slump

Bunny Brief, of the Kansas City Blues, king pin slugger of the American association, who was leading the hiters who have participated in 35 or more games, has been dethroned and landed in fourth place. The slump of Brief also was reflected on G. Wright, Brannan, Blackburne, Roth and others and this falling off has pulled down their team batting average from .313 to .309, and has cost the Blues the leadership n the pennant race.

J. Smith, Toledo, a runer up to Brief a week ago, has stepped out in front and Lamar, a teammate is his nearest rival. Smith's mark is .378 and Lamar's .366. Carl East is trailing in third place with .365 and Brief is next wth .364.

Clouts 14 Homers

Brief extended his home run record to 14 and has run his total bases to 135. His 55 tallies gives him the lead as run getter.

Christenbury of Indianapolis has taken a sudden spurt on the bases and by stealing five bases, ran his total to 14, tying Eddie Murpay of Columbus for these honors.

Other leading batters: G. Wright, Kansas City .362; Schrieber, Columbus .358; Combs Louisville .352; Christenbury, Indianapolis .344; E. Murphy, Columbus .343; Brown Indianapolis .342; Hammond, Kansas City .333; Campbell, Indianapolis .330.
